July 17th 1830

My dear Deborah

I received your letter, for which I return my thanks.
I intended to have answered it with longer one than I shall be able to as I have got 3 more to write this morning in school, all of which I ought to have answered before.

Tell your dear sister Maria that I intended to have answered her kind letter today, but I received the others some time ago and promised to answer

2 or three days ago but it has been so hot that I have not done any thing.

I am going home this afternoon to stay till Monday. I have got something the matter with my head and to see the Doctor

I am afraid that he will make me stay at home from <sup>school</sup> two or three days.

It is so warm here that the thermometer was a 82 in the coolest places.

I shall answer Sylvia's note soon as well as your beloved sister. All the ~~rest~~ scholars send their love to you and you

With love to all my friends
I remain
Yrs truly
Mary H Colman
